Gospel Connection: Just a few years ago, Libby Osgood was sitting in the control room at NASA's Goddard Space Center in Greenbelt, Maryland, monitoring the launch of a new communications satellite. She was 25, the youngest systems engineer on the team. She later went to work for a NASA contractor in Phoenix, but the slower pace made her restless. After two years in Phoenix, she decided to go Kenya to work with a nonprofit group providing medical, dental and vision services to children. Libby fell in love with Kenya and its people. She was done staring at screens of unmoving, metal satellites — Libby wanted to work with people.

She returned from Kenya and starting teaching engineering at the University of Prince Edward Island. She would go back to Kenya every February and bring students with her to show them how their skills could help people who were truly in need.

Libby also became more and more involved in church, especially a new diocesan young adult group. But she considered her religion and profession two distinct parts of her life, not an integrated whole. That changed after a meeting a sister of the Congregation of Notre-Dame during a trip with the young adult group. Libby talked about her quandary and the sister explained that the Notre Dame Sisters are dedicated to what they call "liberating education": the sisters seek to empower and educate in any form that frees the human spirit.

Libby remembers: "For a few exhilarating seconds, I saw my whole life clearly integrated. I realized that I did not have to evangelize or mention God at work, as I was ministering to my students and coworkers simply by loving them as worthy, holy individuals." This summer, Sister Libby Osgood took her first vows as a Sister of the Congregation of Notre-Dame. [From "Aerospace Sister" by Libby Osgood, America, July 22, 2019.]

Whatever our skill set, whatever talents we possess, whatever we feel passionate about can become our "cross": the means God has given us to bring resurrection and hope to our broken world. Whether ours is the world of the stars or actuary tables, whether our skills are in high tech or cookware, to follow Christ means to accept the gift of our crosses and use them, not for our own profit and benefit alone, but for the realization of the kingdom of God here and now.

Religious Education: Happy September! The calendar for this year's RE classes is just being finalized. It will be mailed out to all families this coming week. Classes will begin on Wednesday, October 2nd with the first class in the Parish House. There will not be a "First Mass" this year, due to Father will be out of town for a couple of days that week. Parents are welcome to come with students this first day, especially first and second grade students. Watch for your letter with the calendar!

Area Catholic Community Meeting: Members of our Area Catholic Communities (hereafter ACC) met on Tuesday, August 20th at St. Wendelin's Mary Hall. A warm welcome to Fr. Matthew Crane (newly assigned to St. Mary Help of Christian Parish) in absentia. Fr. Crane was unable to attend due to his installation Mass at St. Mary Help of Christian.

As it currently stands, our ACC will be shepherded by our current pastors. There is no plan to change Mass times. It is possible that the three pastors may rotate among the parishes for weekend Masses. Discussion did take place regarding a possible Mass schedule, in the event our ACC had only two priests. There was a good discussion and agreement that St. Mary Help of Christian would have two weekend Masses and the other parishes one weekend Mass. No future Mass times were established and remember, no change in Mass times are expected currently.

Fruitful discussion followed on Faith Formation and Youth Ministry. The council saw this as an area where we could collaborate, since St. Mary Help of Christian is looking at hiring a Faith Formation Director and possibly a Youth Minister. One idea which surfaced is to hire a degreed person in Religious Education for the ACC. This person would develop a program to deepen the faith life of children, youth, and adults. This person would seek volunteers and stipend persons to work in our various parishes. A similar model could be used for Youth Ministry.

Next steps in regard to Faith Formation and Youth Ministry:

- *Present idea to Parish Councils for approval
- *Have Finance Councils determine what funds are available in their budget.
- *Create a Task Force to study options and create job descriptions.

The next meeting is set for September 26, 7pm, at St. Anne's in Kimball
